

HOME HAPPENINGS.

—Christmas next Monday.
—Same old rain Thursday morning.
—It is by no means too late to do Christmas shopping.
—Many new names have been added to the Dispatch list the past week.
—Red Cross stamps can be purchased at the drug store of F. A. Morris.
—Dispatch subscription accounts past due should be given immediate attention.
—Children like something else than what they really need to make them real happy on Christmas.
—May your Christmas day be all that it should be, rich in remembrance, love, contentment and pleasure.

—Many wagon loads of poultry have been hauled through Canfield this week to supply the Youngstown Christmas market.
—The Dispatch was pleased to receive calls from numerous farmer friends during the Institute in Canfield Friday and Saturday.

—M. J. Neff delivered 300 chickens Wednesday to one Youngstown dealer. He also furnished other dealers with turkeys, chickens and ducks.

—The ministers have arranged for cottage prayer meetings for two weeks in January and these will take the place of the usual week of prayer.

—Tuesday afternoon the Stithery Club was entertained by Mrs. L. A. Manchester and Mrs. C. C. Fowler, at the home of the latter on West Main street.

—A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Poehls of Youngstown. Mrs. Poehls is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Booth, in this place.

—Plans are being made to have programs of unusual interest for the Agricultural Extension School and Home Makers' School to be held in Canfield Jan. 8 to 12.

—Ford McGinnis and Fred Greier have decided to dissolve partnership and will quit business. They will have a public sale on the north border of the village Jan. 3.

—Christmas entertainment at the Presbyterian church this (Thursday) evening, at the Methodist church Friday evening and at the Christian church Saturday evening.

—Edward Sprinkle of this township on Monday killed a Poland hog that dressed 668 pounds. This is the heaviest porker slaughtered in this locality for some time.

—"The hills between Canfield village and the Boardman township line recently graded, are a fright to travel when mud is king," remarked a caller at the Dispatch office the other day.

—At the recent meeting of the Ohio state grange A. M. Sigle of Green, Allen Chubb of Canfield and C. S. French of Goshen were made members of the state executive committee.

—Holiday vacation at the Normal college begins at noon Friday. Work will be resumed Wednesday morning, Jan. 3. At the union building school closes Friday afternoon and begins Tuesday morning, Jan. 2.

—A fire in the old jail residence, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moy, caused some excitement on Court street Monday night. The blaze, which started from a defective flue, was extinguished before much damage was done.

—The Dispatch was in error last week in saying that no bodies had been placed in the mausoleum in the village cemetery. It has learned that the remains of Mrs. Martin Neff and W. G. Cassaday were recently placed in crypts in the mausoleum.

—The ladies of Zion Reformed church, north of the village, will serve an oyster supper at the church next Wednesday evening from 5 to 7 o'clock. After supper Hon. W. S. Anderson of Youngstown will deliver an address. The public is most cordially invited.

—The coming of Santa Claus to the store of Andrews & George last Saturday morning caused great excitement among the little folks. More than 125 children were at the railroad station to bid him welcome. According to promise he presented each child with a gift and then led the noisy procession to the Big Store.

—Harry W. Tietler of Leetonia and Miss Bessie F. Foshacht of Canfield were united in marriage last week and will make their home in Leetonia. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Lillian Foshacht and until recently was a popular clerk in W. L. Bryson's grocery store. The happy couple have the best wishes of many friends.

—The following officers of Argus Lodge, No. 645, F. & A. M., have been installed for the ensuing year: W. M. Herbert, Delfs; S. W., S. A. Arnold; J. W. F. A. Morris; S. D., L. B. Curtis; J. D., Shirley Boyer; treasurer, D. C. Dickson; secretary, Dr. Campbell; stewards, I. B. Sondecker and P. F. Myers; chaplain, Prof. J. F. Guy.

—A well known farmer of this township in his eagerness to get his morning chores done arose and hurried out to the barn to milk. After he had milked six cows he discovered that it was only 11 o'clock. Then he hastened into the house and back to bed to remain until morning. Now he is wondering whether the story will get out on him.

—Miss Adams, superintendent of Christ Mission in Youngstown spoke at the Presbyterian church in this place last Sunday morning after a short talk by Rev. Pugh, telling of the work being done along various lines. Last year the Sunday school and members of the church contributed generously to the mission and the same order will obtain this year.

—At the meeting of the board of county fair managers held in Canfield last Saturday the board reorganized by electing the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Ewing Gault, Jackson township; vice president, R. S. Hawkins, Berlin Center; secretary, B. L. Manchester, Green township; treasurer, C. G. Fowler, Canfield. The board is planning to make several changes on the grounds before the next fair. It is likely that machinery hall will be moved to near the present site of poultry hall and the dining hall converted into a poultry hall. And it may be necessary to erect another exhibition hall.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

—Lisbon fears race suicide. There was not a single birth in the town during the month of November.

—Mrs. Ellen Eckma, 65 years old, died Saturday at her home east of Mineral Ridge and was buried Monday forenoon in Four Mile Run cemetery.

—James Scott, a former resident of Canfield township, died last week in the Columbiana county infirmary where he had made his home for 20 years.

—Progressive republicans are actively at work in this section and it is expected that an anti-Taft organization will be effected in this county before the close of the year.

—Fire in the Gem Clay Co. pottery at Sebring Tuesday morning did damage estimated at $2,500. Quite a number of men will be thrown out of employment until repairs can be made.

—Friends have been advised of the death of Mrs. Wm. Fennell of Sedalia, Mo., who was formerly Mrs. Fred Dressel of Greenford. Mrs. Fennell died last Sunday after a short illness.

—The Clark Co.'s acetylene gas engine and lighting plant at Beloit is to be moved to Youngstown where inducements were offered. The company has been making 300 engines annually but will double its capacity after the shops are moved.

—While an Erie switching crew was at work in the Lisbon yard last Saturday a freight car jumped the track and after badly damaging a trestle landed in a creek below. It was necessary to send for a wrecking crew to clear the track and remove the car from the creek.

MAILING STATEMENTS.

We are mailing statements of subscription accounts and hope all patrons receiving same will promptly favor us with a remittance. We need all money due to meet the heavy expense of issuing the Dispatch.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SCHOOL.

Farmers, their wives, sons and daughters should not fail to attend the Agricultural Extension School and Home Makers' School to be held in Canfield Jan. 8th to 12th. The state board will furnish able speakers and most profitable sessions are assured. The cost is trifling. Last year the schools cost each attendant only 40c.

A. P. Webb & Co.

Leading Photographers of Youngstown, with their up-to-date equipment, are able to make first-class pictures no matter what weather conditions may be. Now is the time to sit for pictures for holiday gifts.

Louvre's Honorable Mention.
The Paris Louvre, the world's greatest art gallery, has been a royal residence in the reign of our art, about the year 625 of our era.

Nothing makes a more desirable Christmas gift than a good photograph. And there is no better place to secure first-class photographs than at A. P. Webb & Co.'s, 143 West Federal St., Youngstown.

Every family has need of a good, reliable liniment. For sprains, bruises, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains there is none better than Chamberlain's. Sold by all dealers.

Home Defined.
Home is a magic word, and we seldom try to analyze it. A little Polish girl in a public school was asked recently to write a definition of "home." "A home," she wrote, "is where people live, and where a man or somebody comes home and finds people there, and then eats!"

Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Tongue coated? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver needs waking up. Doan's Regulax cure bilious attacks. 25 cents at any drug store.

One Thing Worth Having.
In this world the one thing worth having is the opportunity, coupled with the capacity, to do well and worthily a piece of work the doing of which is of vital consequence to the welfare of mankind.—Theodore Roosevelt.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

The Onlooker

OMAR THE GARDENER

I myself last Spring did eagerly Peruse The Catalogues with all their Tempting Views, And 'mongst the List of Garden Stuff and Fruit Preliminarily did Pick and Chose.

The Huge Tomatoes with their Cheeks of Red As though upon the Page some Beef had bled, Inspired me to a vaunting, vain Desire, I too, should grow them in my Garden Bed.

The Mammoth Pease, with lusty sides and Fat—As large, forsooth, as any Lady's Hat—Attracted me, and so I planted them. Dear Reader, have you ever tackled That?

The Egg Plants, too, bedazzled my Poor Eyes By reason of their wondrous pictured Size—They were as plump and fat as Pumpkins are, Much larger than the Sort one goes and Buys.

And so it went: I bought my stock of Seeds, And cleared my Patch of Sod and Stones and Weeds—Alas, Today when I look over It My Soul writhes while my Heart both burns and bleeds!

They sprouted—Yes, they sprouted one! Tomatoes grew like a Penny Ball; The Egg Plants all were Admired, and the Pease May serve for Buckshot when I hunt this Fall.

The Corn grew Sprinkled—worse than Words can tell; The Berries still were green when off they fell—I often wonder what the Seedsman buy One half so Hopeless as the Seeds they sell.

A Hoe, a Rake, a Patch of Ground, a Cow—They were my Dream of True Content, somehow. Next Year, Dear Reader, you will see me find A Barren Field make Paradise now.

And thou, O Seedsman, when next Spring thine Eye Seeks the Addresses of the Folk of Try With thy rare Catalogues of Things to Raise, If I am on thy List, please pass me by.

Faulty System.
"My dear," said the trusting wife, "I don't think your rules of economy are any good."

"You don't?" asked the fond husband.
"No," she replied, bending anew over the column of figures in her beautifully bound expense book. "You told me the way to save money was not to buy things—that thus we would save the amount the goods would have cost us. So I have been careful to set down the exact price of everything I have wanted to buy, but felt I could not afford. I find, in adding it up, it amounts to $156.88, but I only have $23.35 in cash on hand. There must be something wrong with your theory."

True to His Creed.
"Bingley is a thorough-and-through pessimist," observes Padoogus.
"Yes?" responds Miggiebury.
"Yes. Why, he had his photograph taken last week to send to his relatives, and what do you suppose he did?"

"Scowled, of course, when the photographer told him to look pleasant."
"To be sure he did. And then, instead of having the photos made up in the usual way, he ordered every one of them finished in blue print."

Her View.
"What?" called the fair young thing to the man who had fallen from his horse for the tenth time that morning.
"Falling off again? Where did you study horsemanship? In a correspondence school?"

Forgetfulness.
"What's wrong with Blinks? Has he forgotten the poem he was to recite?"
"No—the host has forgotten to ask Blinks to recite it!"

To Clean Alabaster.
To clean dust stained alabaster or marbles, make a paste of whiting, soap and milk. The paste must be left to dry on then then washed away, the surface being then dried with a cloth and then with a flannel, when the ornaments will be found clean and unharmed.

Natural Longing.
You cannot expect the worst classes to see luxury, wealth and ease without longing for a share

The average man does not know, and usually does not inquire, under what circumstances the abstractor or title examiner is liable or the nature or extent of that liability. It is common error to think that he is liable for any error or mistake he makes. Likewise no attention is given to the responsibility of either. Abstracts and opinions taken upon blind faith are dangerous things. Our policy of title insurance protects again both error and loss.

Holiday Opening

Suits We are showing this season more than the ordinary large selection. Every suit is of special value, at $8 to $24 at least $2 to $5 below what other stores, with large expenses, can afford to sell to you.

Overcoats The largest selection we ever had, with plain or convertible collars, in plain black or mixed shades in smooth cloths or the rough finish and long napped Austrian cloths, the latest novelties.

Cravenettes These goods are selling beyond our expectation as they are practical coats for all kinds of weather and never muss up. They are wanted to keep out rain—no rubber about them—and also answer for ordinary overcoat. See our large line of mixed patterns or plain black.
